

FOR: CIA - MAIL ROOM LIBRARY

PROGRAM Drew Pearson

STATION WTOP Radio

DATE December 26, 1964 6:45 P.M.

CITY Washington, D. C.

SEX AND SPYING

DREW PEARSON: "Predictions of things to come:--

"Prediction number one -- are female spies out of date? For years the most romantic system of spying was through beautiful ladies, but with secret listening devices, some people have figured that sex, when it comes to spying, is now out of date.

"Here is my prediction -- the Senate Internal Security Committee will issue a report soon, on sex and spies. I predict it will charge that some American diplomats have been lured into romance. I predict the report will cite the case of one American who continued an affair with a lady after she had admitted being a secret agent, and told the diplomat he was being photographed from an adjoining room. Sex, I predict, will be charged by the Senators with not being at all out of date when it comes to spying."